N. G. P. MILITARY BALL

Two Balls and a Reception Make Up the Day's Festivities.

Washington's Birthday was celebrated with great gusto yesterday. To begin with, it was a legal holiday, and many people spent the day out of town. Then, too, many parties were given for the young and for the old. In the evening two balls were held. The annual military ball of the First Regiment Infantry, National Guard of Pennsylvania, was held in the Armory, Broad and Callowhill streets. It was quite an unusual affair, as all military guests wore full dress uniforms and the Armory was wonderfully decorated with national colors, flags and greens. Major Joseph Klapp Nicholls was chairman of the committee. The Honorary Committee included Brigadier General A. C. Markley, U. S. A.; Captain James D. Heisinger, U. S. A.; Captain Paul McCook, U. S. A.; Captain Harry Cooper, U. S. A.; Captain Charles C. Allen, U. S. A.; Captain Francis H. Strong, U. S. A.; Lieutenant Edward G. Elliott, U. S. A.; Lieutenant Townsend Whelen, U. S. A.; Major General James W. Latta, Major General Wendell P. Bowman, Brigadier General R. Dale Benson, Brigadier General Theodore E. Wiederhelm, Brigadier General Chambers McKibbin, Brigadier General Sylvester Bonaffon, Brigadier General J. Lewis Good, Boies Penrose, D. Newlin Fell, Robert von Moschizker, F. Amedeo Bregy, Edward A. Anderson, John M. Patterson, Bernard Gilpin, C. Stuart Patterson and Colonel Alexander P. Colesberry.

The patronesses of the affair were Mrs. Daniel B. Bower, Mrs. Richard M. Cadwalader, Mrs. C. Howard Clark, Jr., Mrs. Percy H. Clark, Mrs. J. Leslie Davis, Mrs. Walter Langdon Eustis, Mrs. T. Charlton Henry, Mrs. Philander C. Knox, Mrs. Howard W. Lewis, Mrs. J. Kearsley Mitchell, Mrs. Alexander Patton, Mrs. George Reynolds, Mrs. J. Percival Roberts, Mrs. Henry B. Thompson, Mrs. William D. Winsor and Mrs. Rollin Wilbur.

Beside the festivities of the evening, the Sons of the Revolution, of which Richard M. Cadwalader is president, gave their annual tea in the Historical Society, 13th and Locust streets, in the afternoon, from 4 until 6. Unlike most teas, the men did the receiving and presided at the tea tables. The musical selections were quite delightful, rendered by members of the Philadelphia Orchestra, under the direction of Harry Meyer.

The Junger Maennerchor held its annual ball in Turner Hall, Broad street and Columbia avenue. It was the 64th affair of that institute, and was a great success, as usual. Beside the dancing, the Junger Maennerchor rendered two prize songs, under the direction of Oscar Geering. Louis Eisenhaus was chairman of the committee.

TIOGA

The fifth annual banquet of the Brotherhood of the Tioga Methodist Church was held last night in the hall on 18th street above Tioga. The program included addresses by William B. Margerum, W. Earl Craig, the Rev. Dr. Forrest E. Dager, Luther Martin and Dr. Forrest Volgtzberger. Several excellent vocal solos were rendered by Miss Ethel M. Kern, with Miss Helen E. Rockafeller as accompanist.

Miss Margaret Robinson, of 2323 West Venango street, entertained her Tioga friends at a Washington party and '500 yesterday. Those invited were Miss Margaret Caine, Miss Dorothy Caine, Miss Elizabeth McMurry, Miss Betty Brown, Miss Grace Henderson, Miss Katherine Snively, Miss Charlotte Kunzig, Miss Margaret Bickler, Miss Margaret Part, Miss Edmond Norman, Miss Lina Wickerley, Miss Emily Reed, Miss Ethel Hunter, Miss Ethel Schwed, Miss Maud Wilson, Miss Nanette Medel and Miss Christine Straub.

Dr. A. Sefton Meyers, of 1214 West Erie avenue, is entertaining Dr. Joseph A. Boley and Dr. Milton J. Bernas, of Brooklyn, over the week. The visitors came to observe the ceremonies attending the dedication of the new Thomas W. Evans Dental Institute.

Miss Kathryn Ennis will entertain at cards on Friday afternoon at her home, 3715 North 15th street, when her guests will include Mrs. Anthony Callanan, Miss Helen Carson, Miss Carrie Hallinger, Miss Helene Murphy, Miss Beatrice Rottner, Miss Katharine Haire and Miss Florence MacMorris.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry De Haan and their son, Julius C. De Haan, formerly of 500 North Broad street, are occupying their new home in the Kensington Apartments, 2714 North 13th street.

Dances and Weddings

THE marriage of Miss Fannie Gable, of 1730 South 5th street, and Simon S. Brone, a merchant of Reading, Pa., took place on February 18 at the Synagogue, 6th and Green streets, this city. A large reception followed the ceremony at the New Auditorium Hall, 7th street and Snyder avenue, after which the young couple left for Washington. On their return they will live in Reading.

The final dance of the Wednesday Night Dancing Class, composed of about 14 couples, meeting this winter at the Gordon School, 421 and Spruce streets, will be held tomorrow at the Philomusan Clubhouse. Each member and her husband are privileged to invite six guests, so that the affair, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Maulle, promises to be quite a large and enjoyable one. The patronesses are Mrs. S. Merrill Weeks, Mrs. Elmer Troth, Mrs. Walter Scott Detwiler, Mrs. Henry Hickman, Mrs. William C. Johnson, Mrs. John McPherson, Mrs. George Fleming, Mrs. Edward Scarlett, Mrs. C. P. Landreth, Mrs. Mason Baker, Mrs. Robert McCreery, Mrs. Charles McKeown, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. E. J. Maynes and Mrs. E. L. Tinker.

FRANKFORD

The ladies of the Holmeburg Baptist Church gave a Martha Washington supper last night in the lecture room of the church. This is an annual event in Holmeburg, and is always patronized by the residents of the suburb. While the supper was in progress there was an entertainment provided by the young ladies of the Baptist Institute for Christian Workers of Philadelphia. The Rev. George H. Swift, pastor of the Holmeburg Baptist Church, is professor of history and pedagogy in the Baptist Institute. Miss Rose Hersfield, Miss Lela Davis, Miss Beth Humphrey, Miss Eva Nelson and Miss Jessie Johnston took part in the entertainment, which was directed by Mrs. George H. Swift. A magic lantern entertainment was another feature of the supper, and was under the personal direction of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Y. Montanye, of Crispin street.
